

Our Joondalup office is moving

Our Joondalup office is moving to a new building.

We will move on Tuesday, 29 September 2026.

Friday, 25 September 2026 is the last day at our old office.

Our new office is modern. It has better facilities for you and your therapist.

Our new address

Our new address is:

Joondalup House, Tenancy 4

8 Davidson Terrace, Joondalup WA 6027

You can view the map here: <https://maps.app.goo.gl/Wqbhab1dST5kakWS8>

Our new waiting room is shared with other health teams. It may feel busier than before.

The building is fully accessible.

Follow the APM signs to enter the building.

Our clinic is on Level 1, opposite the NDIS office. Please use the lift to reach the clinic.

What stays the same

- You will keep seeing the same therapist.
- Your appointment day and time will not change.
- You will get the same great support you know.

Parking at our new office

There are parking bays near the entrance. You can park for 2 hours.

If these bays are full, there is paid street parking on Davidson Terrace.

There are ACROD bays near the entrance for customers who need them.

More ACROD bays are close by, at the Department of Water building.

You can reach these parking bays from Davidson Terrace.

Give yourself extra time on your first visit. This helps you find parking and the office.

Will my travel cost change?

Some customers get therapy at home or in the community.

Our new office is only 2 km from our old office.

Your travel cost should not change much.

You can read more about travel costs on our website: therapyfocus.net.au/how-we-work/travel-charges
